

BRIDGING THE GAP BETWEEN HOME AND SCHOOL

Holding hands is a unique and specialized Parent-Child Program. It helps parents and their children to explore together an alternate safe and secure environment beyond their home. The program acts as a transition bridge between home and school and the aim is to help children become independent, overcome separation anxiety and settle down in school. The focus is on social, emotional, physical and language skills development.

Peer Group Interaction

Social & Emotional
Development

Physical & Language
Development

What does Holding Hands do?

- It provides a forum for parents to connect and discuss developmental and parenting issues
- It facilitates easy transition between home and school for the young minds
- It promotes physical, cognitive, social and emotional development
- It identifies active intelligences and the most effective methods of learning
- It offers tips for meaningful parent-child bonding at home
- It helps toddlers acquire english language through music, stories and role-play

Age and Classes

- Entry age: 6 months, upper limit of 18 months
- Age specific batches

Program Details

The Holding Hands Program runs on Tuesday and Thursday, 10:00 AM to 11:00 AM, offering a quarter of enriching experiences from August to October. Upon completion, your child will receive a Certificate of Completion from Pathways, celebrating their journey of growth and discovery.